The 13th Japan / Korea International Symposium on Resources Recycling and Materials Science

Kyoto, Japan, May 13 - 15, 2015
Kyoto Garden Palace

Organized by the Resource Processing Society of Japan and KIGAM, and sponsored by the Division of Environment at The Society of Chemical Engineers, Japan, Kansai Branch of The Japan Institute of Metals and The Mining and Materials Processing Institute of Japan.

Dr. Ji-Whan Ahn and Prof. Shibata are very pleased to welcome you as an author or a participant for The 13th Japan/Korea International Symposium on Resources Recycling and Materials Science to be held in May 13-15, 2015 at Kyoto Garden Palace, Kyoto Japan.

We started this symposium 13 years ago in 2003, which was held in Kansai University. Since then, we came to the 13th symposium due to the importance of resources recycling and materials science. Prof. Shibata believes this is a big business and this is owing to the efforts of Dr. Ahn and her research group. Actually continuous effort bears fruit.

We hope many Korean and Japanese researchers will get together at this historical symposium.
